Year in Review

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Each academic year begins with our annual staff & faculty convocation. Last year, the theme of my presentation was “Disrupting/ Innovating Education in a VUCA World.” We live in a volatile, uncertain, complex, and ambiguous (VUCA) world, and we acknowledge that we need to find innovative ways to “disrupt” what we have always done so we can adapt to these changing and sometimes challenging times. I challenged my colleagues to be creative and innovative as we continue our mission of providing accessible education opportunities that support social responsibility, community engagement, meaningful careers, and lifelong learning.

As I look back at all of last year’s accomplishments, I couldn’t be prouder of what the college has done to accept this challenge and lay the groundwork to predict change, re-invent how we train and educate our students, strengthen our connection to the community through new and existing partnerships, and to embrace what makes Cochise College extraordinary.

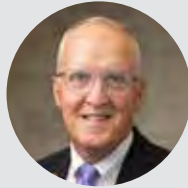

One of the most significant ways we reinvented ourselves this year was to expand our offering of accessible educational opportunities. We were excited to announce the approval from our accrediting body, the Higher Learning Commission (HLC), to offer two baccalaureate degree programs of critical need: a Bachelor of Science in Nursing and a Bachelor of Applied Science in Leadership, Management, and Operations.

The college recognizes the importance of supporting our local law enforcement agencies by providing modernized training facilities. In addition to breaking ground at our Sierra Vista Campus on two new buildings that will be completed in early 2025, the college’s First Responders Academy held two ribbon cuttings. The first was in partnership with the City of Sierra Vista for a Driving Track on Guilio Cesare Ave. In addition, we unveiled an innovative ambulance simulator that utilizes virtual reality technology for EMT and Paramedic training in collaboration with SimLeader.

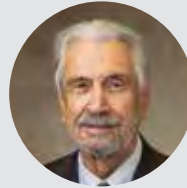

Once again, this Year in Review celebrates the remarkable achievements of our staff, faculty, and students as we turn volatility, uncertainty, complexity, and ambiguity into vision, understanding, clarity, and agility to keep the college resilient and continue to create bright futures for our students and community. I hope you enjoy this look back at the 2023-2024 academic year.

Cochise College's

HOW

Our beliefs, convictions, behaviors, and actions

The 2023-2024 academic year at Cochise College marked a period of significant growth and transformation. Overall, the academic year was characterized by a spirit of progress and renewal as the college continues to build upon its strengths and adapt to the evolving needs of our students and the community we serve.

The academic year began with its annual staff and faculty convocation, which examined our How statement. Our How - In all we do, we exhibit collaboration, encouragement, respect, innovation, and service.

COCHISE COLLEGE

ENCOURAGEMENT

COLLABORATION

We actively connect with our students and community by providing accessible learning opportunities and resources to overcome barriers, build relationships, and cultivate economic, social, and cultural growth.

Cochise College held a press conference announcing two baccalaureate degree programs for Registered Nurse to Bachelor of Science in Nursing (RN to BSN) and a Bachelor of Applied Science in Leadership, Management and Operations.

In April, the college partnered with Arizona@Work to hold county-wide job fairs.

- The Small Business Development Center and the USDA hosted Cochise County Networking Events for county farmers and ranchers.

ENCOURAGEMENT

We provide personal support to students and staff, faculty, and community members through active engagement and compassion.

Cochise College held a health and wellness fair for students and community members on both the Douglas and Sierra Vista campuses.

The Cochise women's soccer team visited Clawson Elementary School in October in recognition of Red Ribbon Week.

In February, the men's basketball team welcomed the "Rookies" Basketball Club from Agua Prieta, Sonora, MX, to participate in a scrimmage and meet-and-greet.

College President Dr. J.D. Rottweiler, along with Governing Board Chair Tim Quinn and Board members David DiPeso, Don Hudgins, and Jane Strain, attended the Community College National Legislative Summit in Washington, D.C. and placed a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

RESPECT

We are a community of acceptance that engages our diverse population (diversity), provides resources appropriate to the needs of individuals (equity), and extends opportunity to all (inclusion).

The Cultural Events Committee and The Scoundrel & Scamp Theater presented a free physical theatre performance, “Send in the Clouds,” a 60-minute circus, music, and magical stage illusion performance.

Micayla Silas, a student-athlete, invited her family to dance and speak about their Native American culture.

CPD 150: Connections For Success students participated in the annual altar/ofrenda building event at the Mexican Consulate.

The college coordinated the visit of 14 education majors and five instructors from two Hermosillo-based teacher preparation schools.

INNOVATION

We create new learning experiences to respond and adapt to the needs of our community.

Cochise College participated in the Arizona Community College Day at the Capitol, showcasing its Workforce Development trailer and cutting-edge technology.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony was held for the driving track in partnership with the City of Sierra Vista to support the First Responders Academy.

The college obtained a state-of-the-art ambulance simulator in partnership with SimLeader. It is being used to train students in the allied health programs.

The First Responders Academy held its first expedited fire science training in Sierra Vista.

SERVICE

We engage our community through service-learning projects, volunteerism, and civic participation.

Every month, students from the Douglas Campus visit residents at Haven Health.

In October, Douglas HS Key Club and the college's TriClub partnered to clean the Bisbee-Douglas Jewish Cemetery.

Medical assistant students offered free blood pressure checks at the Pit Fire Pottery Festival.

- Student nurses volunteered at the Echoing Hope Ranch Fall Festival in October.
 - The Student Government Association partnered with the Raymond W. Bliss Fort Huachuca/Sierra Vista team for a college-wide Thanksgiving food drive for local families.
 - The college participated in the Salvation Army's annual bell ringing campaign and angel tree where 35 angels were adopted.
 - The financial aid department held a toy drive to support local foster families.

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS

Cochise College is a public, two-year institution that serves the residents of Cochise County at two campuses and four centers in Southeast Arizona. Cochise provides more than 90 general and technical education programs leading to a variety of workforce certificates, associate degrees and now, two bachelor's degrees! It is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission and is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution.

In July, the First Responders Academy completed two groundbreaking projects:

- In partnership with the City of Sierra Vista, a 4.8 acre driving track was constructed to provide first responder and commercial driver students a space to practice and improve their skills in a safe, controlled environment.
- The college also partnered with SimLeader to develop an ambulance simulator that utilizes mixed reality technology. It allows EMT and paramedicine students to get hands-on, immersive training like never before.

Notable Achievements

The groundbreaking ceremony for two new facilities, the Firearms Training Complex and Bugen Hall Student Housing.

Cochise College added two baccalaureate degree programs: Registered Nurse to Bachelor of Science in Nursing (RN to BSN) and a Bachelor of Applied Science in Leadership, Management, and Operations.

At the Founders Day celebration, Mrs. Lucia Spikes donated a framed photo of the historic 1963 groundbreaking ceremony to college President Dr. J.D. Rottweiler.

Cochise College received numerous awards and designations for its academic programs and campus involvement.

The Aspen Institute College Excellence Program named Cochise College one of the top 150 community colleges in the nation, one of only two Arizona community colleges honored with this prestigious recognition. This is the third time Cochise College has received this recognition.

 - Dr. Steve Merkle, Mr. Frank Emanuele, and two former students (now alumni) published a research note about beaver food caching behavior in response to pond drying on the San Pedro River.

A BRIGHT FUTURE AHEAD

Cochise College remains committed to investing in the community with these new initiatives.

Currently under development:

- The college will host ribbon-cutting ceremonies for the new Firearms Training Complex and Bugen Hall Student Housing buildings.
- The college is exploring workforce development options to expand course options to the northern region of the county.
- In partnership with SimLeader, additional virtual/mixed-reality simulators will be added to support law enforcement and first responder training at the Downtown Center.
- The college began a nationwide presidential search as President Rottweiler is retiring after a 15-year tenure.

STUDENTS SUCCEED BECAUSE YOU ARE GENEROUS.

A widowed mother of three, Lanae Rogers left her job because she was feeling overwhelmed by competing demands. College is a top priority, and she plans to stick with it. Her objective is to graduate with skills that will help her break cycles in her family and community. An hour after she resigned, she learned that she had been selected to receive a scholarship, and that it would help offset the lost income from her job.

"Earning a degree through education opens my world of opportunity and gives me a springboard to fly as high as I choose. Being gifted a scholarship makes it possible; without it, it's only a dream. Thank you for this gift of education. Thank you for this gift of peace of mind. Thank you for this gift of hope. Thank you for believing in me!"

Lanae's gratitude and enthusiasm for learning and personal development are reflections of why the Cochise College Foundation, managing its largest endowment in history at this time last year, is not especially concerned that its endowment value has dropped. The reasons for the drop are great ones – students!

Expenditures made by the foundation in keeping with donor wishes mean students will have the opportunity to live on the Sierra Vista Campus come January 2025. Simultaneous construction of both the residence hall and the new indoor firearms training facility may not have been possible without a sizable bequest by the late George Bugen of Bisbee.

The foundation board and staff are extremely honored that George and other donors entrust us to see their charitable goals come to fruition. Because of your confidence and generosity, nearly $400,000 in gifted assets helped with things like the funding of test vouchers for students pursuing high school equivalency, the purchase of simulation law enforcement vehicles and a medevac helicopter to train first responders, the provision of fuel vouchers for those traveling long distances to class, and the building of a house by residential construction technology students. In addition, 986 scholarships were awarded to 768 students in 2023-2024.

This is exciting stuff! Where community generosity meets college opportunity and student need is a terrific place to be. I salute all who participated in the foundation mission to promote student success last year and every year. Students succeed because you are generous.

Sincerely yours,

*Larry Borger
